CANDLEMAS DAY IS FEB. 2

Catholics Are Making Preparations for Its Proper Observance.

Preparations are being made by Catholics for Candlemas day Wednesday, Feb. 2. The day is known officially as the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, but in common it is known as Candlemas because on that day the candles prescribed for divine service are blessed. The candles must be made of beeswax. This is so imperative that the church has preferred to have even her most sacred rites performed without lights rather than have those used not made of this material. The very word "candle" (Latin candel) in the language of the church, always signifies a candle made of beeswax. Tallow, sperm, paraffine, patent wax or any other than beeswax candles cannot be blessed and are forbidden to be used for divine service. It is an ancient and praiseworthy custom for Catholics to procure at least one wax candle for this day, and after it has been blessed to take it home to use it at the bed of the dying, or during a storm, or for any other end as the church wishes. Good Catholics are not satisfied with this alone, they offer one or more candles for the service of the altar, thus following the example of Mary, who though not a subject to the law offered a sacrifice in the temple.

HOSPITAL DIRECTORS TO MEET

Will Decide on Oak Lawn's Future This Evening.

A stockholders' meeting of the above hospital will be held Thursday evening, Jan. 27, at 8 p. m., in the municipal court room, for the purpose of deciding whether the handsome donations made by the late Mr. Payne, Mrs. E. D. Tallman, Mr. Bennett and others shall be lost or whether the stockholders and friends have enough interest in the city hospital to donate to its further continuance. It is imperative that the stockholders should attend this meeting as it means a city hospital or a winding up of its affairs. The board of directors chosen at the annual meeting in December, 1897, find themselves confronted with a debt of some $1,500 (a small amount as compared with the value of the hospital premises) yet the institution cannot be maintained unless its friends come to its relief. In justice to themselves and the stockholders the board of directors calls this meeting as a preliminary step toward continuing the hospital or winding up its affairs at an early date. JOHN THOROUGHGOOD.

MAY NAME SILVERTHORN.

Democratic gubernatorial Candidate May Get a Judgeship.

Madison, Jan. 27.—[Special]—Attorney General Mylrea, and many sixteen circuit lawyers are booming W. C. Silverthorn of Wausau, and indications are that Silverthorn will be a prominent candidate for the judgeship in the sixteenth circuit which will be made vacant when Judge Bardeen takes his seat on the supreme bench. Attorney General Mylrea says: "One reason why I favor Mr. Silverthorn is the desire to keep all the judiciary appointments free from political influence. At the time that Justice Winslow was appointed to the supreme court, Governor Peck appointed Judge Fish, a republican, to succeed Judge Winslow at Racine; Gov. Hoard appointed Judge Siebeck, a democrat, to succeed Judge Stewart, and if a more important precedent were needed we have only to look at the action of President Harrison in appointing Judge Jackson from Tennessee to the federal court."

TELLS OF HIS TRIP ON A U. S. CRUISER

E. P. HUMPHREY WRITES FROM KEY WEST.

Viewed the Government Grounds and Took Snap Shots With His Camera—Sea Water and Soap Combine Into Good Glue—Is Now At Graytown.

E. P. Humphrey, who is on his way from Nicaragua writes home from Key West as follows:

Key West is beautifully situated on one of the coral keys, lying south-west of the south coast of Florida. The key is almost entirely taken up by the city which is normally double that, caused by the influx of Cubans. So far I have not heard anything of the Cuban war, largely I think, because of my inability to understand Spanish. Fully one-half of the people you meet answer "No Sabo" to your questions, and the dark Spanish complexion far outnumber the "gentleman of color" on the streets. The first thing that strikes a man on approaching the city is the large fort commanding the anchorage. There are several large sized guns mounted on the parapet and a large number of smaller ones lower down. I hope to make a closer inspection of the new fortifications now under process of construction. They are putting in 10 and 12 inch disappearing guns in the new works. The old fort (Taylor, I think they call it) is more to be looked at than feared. The government bonded warehouse and the combined customhouse and post-office are fine structures. The beacon light and the standpipe are also very conspicuous, more on account of the low buildings that surround them, than for their own height. Formerly the town was noted for its yearly visit of the yellow fever, but since the waterworks were put in a few years ago which gets its supply from the sea for sanitary use, the city has been free from the terrible scourge. I went to the pumping station but found it closed and locked, and its standpipe full to the top. For all domestic uses rain water is used, large storage tanks being built in the coral by all large buildings. The absence of dust and soft coal smoke makes such storage possible without its getting foul.

Have Electric Lights.

They have an incandescent electric light plant which lights most of the streets very well and many of the private houses, as well as all of the better class of stores and public buildings. They are enlarging the plant and it is now in anything but a model condition. But even this fact of enlargement does not excite the filibuster of the floors around the machinery itself. Do not think, judging from the appearance of the building that they have had an ounce of "waste" on the premises for a year. The government has several reservations on the island among which is the naval station where the supplies are kept for light houses of this south Atlantic coast. On the pier by the side of us are stored a large supply of bouys of all sizes, forms and descriptions, also ropes, lamps, oils, etc., are in great abundance in the store house. The other reservations are the custom house and the postoffice already referred to; the marine hospital; first, second and third batteries, old Fort Taylor and the new batteries now in course of erection. Also the United States barracks. I may be able to give a more detailed description of these places as I expect to visit most of them during the day. We are to stay until 5 p. m. today (I am writing this Sunday morning, on deck in the shade, as the sun is even this early, 7:30 a. m., rather warm) taking on coal and supplies. It will give us thirty-six hours in port. The indications are that we will be so deep in water that it will take us not less than a week to reach Graytown. There goes the bugle for breakfast.

Sunday Evening—On the briny deep again. Cast off at 5:30 while at the dinner table. Had a good crowd at the pier to give us a good send off. I tried to get fruit to take on board but could get nothing at a decent price except lemons at 5 cents per dozen and good lemons at 15 cents. Poor, very poor oranges, were two for 5 cents or 25 cents per dozen and apples 30 to 40 cents a dozen. Had we gotten in Tuesday to Thursday oranges would have been cheap, as the fruit boat comes in from Cuba on Monday evening.

Took Snap Shots

Early in the morning Mr. Brown and Mr. Hardin, chief draftsman of the party, and myself started out to take in the island, both with our eyes and a camera. We started by taking a very pretty characteristic view of a street lined with coconut trees. From there we went to Fort Taylor. We found the lieutenant in charge still in bed at 9:30 a. m. He put in his appearance at 10:15 and said "No" to our application to go into the fort. Nothing was said about the outside so we walked across the bridge over the moat and walked around the outside. There was a sign up on the bridge "Keep Out" which we read by adding, "Of the Inside of the Fort. This amended sign we obeyed. On our return the right honorable lieutenant met us and expressed his "unqualified disapproval of your disobeying my positive orders, and I now want you to immediately leave the grounds of the reservation." We did so after expressing our sorrow (?) for our misunderstanding the scope of his refusal, etc., etc. From there we went around the island viewing the sights. At the United States barracks are kept two companies of troops of 500 men each. In the yard of the barracks is a large banyan tree that we took a view of. Copies will be sent home to you when we get them developed, which may not be until we return to New York.

Monday—We are going W. S. W. across the gulf at a rate of 10 knots (11.5 miles) an hour. We have the south east trade wind helping us out and it will only hold out we will have a short passage. I understand that they are going to land us at Graytown, "break out" the freight and then send the boat to Bluefields for a cargo of 150 Indians and niggers that are to do the manual work. We will be divided up into twelve or fifteen parties and do not expect to be through inside of a year. At 2 p. m. we are passing the northwest point of Cuba which is some thirty miles southeast of us and just out of sight. We have a Cuban with us who was a captain of a cavalry troupe under Gomez until he had to leave the island on account of sickness some three months ago.

Rain Storm.

Tuesday—Last night we ran through a rain storm and had showers all night and still looks showery (10 a. m.) The temperature of the water of the gulf is 78 to 80 degrees and the water for drinking is of corresponding temperature. This in connection with the "flatness" (caused by it being distilled) makes it very unsatisfactory drinking. Most of the boys laid in a stock of lemons and limes at Key West, and by favoring the water with them makes a more pleasant drink. You all have heard of the pleasures of sea water baths. If those that are willing to pay fabulous sums for the same had to have their personal cleanliness depend upon the same sea water they would change their minds. Soap and sea water mix in just right proportions to form an insoluble glue that for adhesive properties beats any sticky substance I have ever met. At first we had nothing but salt water for bathing, but now we have distilled water in limited quantities served out to us morning, noon and night.

The first time I went to the wash room after leaving New York, I was as dirty as the city could well make me and pitched into the soap with zest, vim, determination, etc., etc., and the more I mixed the worst it got. I finally gave it up, with common soap of the land, and went to the steward and bought 10 cents worth of experience from him in the shape of a piece of so called sea water soap. Back to the washroom I went covered with determination, vim, zest, etc. etc. same as before; plus insoluble—glue. Again sea water soap and I met and I received a second coating of glue. I then gave up and with water alone I polished the surface of the glue and went on deck to meet the rest of the party.

Close to Graytown.

Nine out of ten were very industriously using their knives trying to cut away the thickest of their extra "covering." I immediately "followed suit" and joined the majority. At the end of three days, by working industriously, I had reduced the "covering" to a thickness, such that distilled water, Packard's tar soap and a little broom corn scrubbing brush gave me a feeling of cleanliness.

Thursday, Dec. 16—The southeast trade has staid right with us and now we are less than 100 miles from Graytown. We are all hoping for quiet weather for tomorrow as we have to land everything through the surf. There are a good many of the party sick. I have eaten nothing today and will not until I get to land. Flying fish have been in sight ever since I entered the gulf. As they appear in sight they look like an English sparrow. I can't see that they move their wings, and think they do not.

Friday 8 a. m. Monkey Point half way between Bluefields and Graytown is about five miles off our starboard bow, and everyone is preparing to go on shore. I hope to get off for an early supper. The transfer will be slow as the ship will have to anchor some two miles off the bar, and will have to go on shore in small boats. The breakers are so bad that many are sure to get wet.

11 a. m. Off Graytown. A Bluefield steamer is at anchor and about ready to start. So good bye.

A CRACK REGIMENT.

ONLY one parallel can be found in the records of famous Federal regiments for the striking battle record of the Sixth Georgia. In point of numbers enrolled, length of service and losses in killed on the field, both numerically and by percentage, the history of the Second Wisconsin is identical with that of the banner Georgia regiment. Both entered the field in 1861. The record of the Sixth Georgia, as found in the only regimental history preserved, closes in July, 1864, with the regiment in the trenches at Petersburg. The Second Wisconsin was mustered out in June, 1864, having closed its fighting career at Spotsylvania. Its death roll was the heaviest of any infantry regiment in the Federal army according to numbers enrolled. Placed in juxtaposition, the figures indicating the strength and losses of these two regiments are seen to be remarkably close:

	Enrolled.	Killed.	cent. Wounded.
Second Wisconsin.	1,208	238	19.7
Sixth Georgia.	1,208	238	19.5

Ten different counties contributed the ten companies organized as the Sixth Georgia regiment, in May, 1861. The regiment was the first in Georgia, and possibly in the whole Confederacy, to enlist for the war. Captain Alfred H. Colquitt was elected colonel. Proceeding at once to Richmond the Sixth was sent to Yorktown in the column forming there to stay the advance of the Federal forces up the peninsula from Fortress Monroe. During a year in the Yorktown army the regiment lost 125 men by sickness. No heavy fighting fell to its lot until the battle of Seven Pines, at the close of May, 1862. The regiment was in the brigade of General Rains, which charged upon the Federal flank when it was surprised at Seven Pines. Compared with other portions of the division engaged there under A. P. Hill the loss in the brigade was slight. The Sixth lost heavily in its right companies, its adjutant was killed and Lieutenant Colonel J. M. Newton wounded.

At the battle of Gaines Mill, which the Confederates called Cold Harbor, the Sixth fought in a brigade newly organized under Colonel Colquitt, who had been made a brigadier. It was attached to the division of D. H. Hill and under him supported Stonewall Jackson in the flank attack which he had brought his valley army down to spring upon Fitz John Porter's line north of the Chickahominy.

The following brief account of the experience of the Sixth that day, written in the field by an officer, shows what a matter of fact affair the going into battle becomes: "We marched rapidly and reached the battlefield about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Under a hot fire from the batteries on the adjacent hills we were thrown first on one part of the lines and then on the other as the enemy seemed to be concentrating on one or the other point. At last we were ordered forward and soon met the foe. With a shout our boys charged, and the enemy gave way until re-enforced by a second line of battle, when we were halted and with our thinned ranks fought most desperately for more than two hours. Just at this time re-enforcements were sent to our relief, and, mistaking us for the enemy, poured a desperate volley into our rear. Even under the concentrated fire from friend and foe our shattered ranks stood unbroken. The re-enforcements swept by, driving the enemy before them. Darkness coming on, we slept on our arms. Our loss was exceedingly heavy—more than 200 killed and wounded, fully half the number carried into action."

The struggle described took place on the McGee House hill, first with the regular battalions under Sykes and then with the volunteers of General J. J. Bartlett's brigade.

During the "Seven Days' battles" Hill's division remained with Jackson's column and didn't get into action until the afternoon of July 1, when it marched up to the Federal batteries ranged "tier above tier" at Malvern Hill. At the signal for attack Hill's division charged alone. Seeing that there were no troops supporting his leading brigade under General Garland, Hill sent the Sixth Georgia across the bullet swept field to the task. Fortunately for the regiment Toombs' Georgia brigade marched up from the flank and drew the enemy's fire or the Sixth would have been wiped out. It escaped with a loss of 50 men.

The Sixth missed the bloody field of Second Bull Run, Hill's division remaining at Richmond when Lee marched north against Pope, but it made up for it in the battles in Maryland. At Antietam it fought in the cornfield along the pike, where its Federal double, the Second Wisconsin, was engaged. General Colquitt's and Major Tracy of the Sixth were among the killed, and the regiment lost 196 in killed and wounded and 30 missing. Eight line officers slept on the field of glory beside their fallen commanders.

Colquitt's brigade was reorganized after Antietam and the ranks of the depleted regiments filled by recruiting. The Sixth had a respite from heavy fighting for a time. It was in the front of the column which Stonewall Jackson hurled upon Hooker's right flank on the plank road beyond Chancellorsville May 2, 1863, and also in the thick of the fight at the Chancellorsville house on Sunday, May 3. In the two days' battles it lost but 50 men. When Lee marched northward to Gettysburg, the brigade was sent to North Carolina and thence to Charleston, where it took a conspicuous part in the defense of the island batteries, especially Fort Wagner. In resisting the attacks on Sumter and Wagner the regiment lost many of its best men.

In leaving Virginia the regiment by no means turned away from the battle. In the middle of the winter of 1864 when Lee's army lay in camp on the Rapidan, Colquitt's brigade was ordered to Florida to help check the Federal invasion of the interior of that state. The campaign was settled at one blow by the battle of Olustee, or Ocean Pond, Feb. 20. At the beginning of the battle the Sixth was detached from the brigade and sent to the extreme left of the Confederate position where attack was least expected. But the unexpected happened and the regiment was heavily engaged for four hours. The cartridge boxes of the fighting men were emptied and those of the dead and wounded on the field rifled for supplies, and the regiment held its ground until Colquitt brought up the full brigade to its support. The Confederates won the day, and after seeing the country cleared of Federals for good the Georgians started north again, halting for a time at Charleston. The Sixth lost 63 killed and wounded at Olustee.

When the campaign opened in May, 1864, Colquitt was ordered to Virginia and reached Richmond just as General Butler was advancing upon the city from the south. His command joined Beauregard for the defense of Drewry's Bluff on the 16th of May. Beauregard took the initiative and attacked Butler at daylight. The Sixth supported General Ransom's charge, which at a sloop carried the Federal breastworks, and came out with a loss of

TROPHIES OF BATTLE.

92 killed and wounded. This battle saved Richmond for a time, but the Confederates were disappointed that Butler was allowed to escape.

After seeing Butler disposed of Colquitt's brigade crossed the James to help Lee head off Grant, and on the 1st of June the Sixth stood on the same ground where it had fought two years before in the battle of Gaines Mill. The Federal charges of the 1st and 3d were easily repulsed with no loss to the Confederates worth naming. In front of the Sixth the Eighth New York heavy artillery lost over 500 men killed and wounded in a single charge. A Georgia officer who was there says: "Our men stood perfectly cool and deliberate and almost every shot brought down its man. The ground in front of our works was literally covered with Federal dead and wounded."

Immediately after the bloody repulse of Grant's efforts at Cold Harbor, Colquitt returned to the south of the James and occupied the trenches at Petersburg. The command built the famous salient on the east of the city in front of Har's hill, where the Federal Fort Steadman was located. The slaughter of Federals in front of Colquitt's salient was equal to that of Cold Harbor. It was there that the First Maine Heavy Artillery lost 638 men killed and wounded in a single charge on the 18th of June.

For 60 days the Georgians stood under fire in those trenches, and it is well known history that every attempt of Grant to force them failed. During that time the Sixth lost 24 killed and 80 wounded. Its commander, Colonel Arnold, was killed July 7.

When Grant began operations to turn Lee's left at the Weldon road, Colquitt once more rushed to the point of danger. His brigade fought in Hill's column at Globe Tavern on the 19th of September in the attack on General Warren's forces, which had seized a strip of the railroad to cut off Lee's supplies coming from the south. The Sixth joined in a flank attack on Warren, led by General Mahone. Entering the fight 250 strong, it bore off as trophies four Federal battleflags and the commander of a brigade of Pennsylvanians, together with his staff and 1,000 men. This swoop was made by penetrating between the pickets and picket reserves and the main line of Federals.

Globe Tavern was the last recorded battle of the regiment. It lost 1 killed and 30 wounded that day, making a total of 233 killed and 639 wounded. During the winter following, when the troops were comparatively idle, an application for a furlough for one of its men was approved by General A. P. Hill, with the following endorsement, "Approved because the Sixth Georgia has asked for few favors and has acted nobly on every battlefield."

WHAT SURRENDER MEANS.

Philippine Commanders Give an Example to Cuban Rebels.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 27.—Advices from the Orient bring to hand the full text of the edict recently issued by Fernando Primo de Rivera, governor-general of the Philippines a brief reference to which has been made through official sources at Madrid.

The edict is so severe in its treatment of all enemies of the imperial government that the manifestoes of Weyler seem mild in comparison. The edict begins with the revocation of all passes heretofore issued and the establishment of a military trocha. Property belonging to persons connected with the rebellion or to tenants, partners or any person interested in property belonging to the rebels is declared forfeited to the government and will be seized to satisfy the needs of the Spanish army. The families of individuals who are incorporated in the rebel party must go to join them or fix their residence where the authorities can watch them.

Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder, and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about 1/4 as much as coffee. 15 and 25c.

Are you sure that you're using the right thing for washing? If the work is slow and hard, and you have to depend upon rubbing, then you ought to get something else. And even if you have something that saves work, it may be bad for the clothes. You may be ruining them.

Pearline gives the easiest, quickest, most economical washing, of anything that's safe to use. The more you investigate, and inquire and compare, the surer you'll be that Pearline is the only right thing to wash with. 540

Send it Back

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.

GEN. DOUBLEDAY.

THE INDIAN APPROPRIATIONS.

Motion to Strike Out the Appropriation for the Carlisle Indian School Is Defeated—Senators Discuss the Silver Question for Six Hours.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The house devoted another day to the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, most of the time being consumed, as on the two previous days, in discussing extraneous subjects. By far the most interesting feature of the day was the debate on the question of reducing the mail-carrier services in the large cities, owing to the failure of the senate to attach the estimated deficiency of $160,000 to the urgent deficiency bill. Mr. Loud (rep., Cal.) used strong words in his criticism of the postoffice department officials, and promised some interesting disclosures later on.

He affirmed that the postoffice officials had, contrary to law, appointed 289 additional carriers, and created a prospective deficiency of $160,000. He said further that in the face of an appropriation of $75,000 for incidental expenses, $107,000 had been spent in six months. Over $50,000 of the reported deficiency, he said, belonged in that account. He urged members not to be so carried away by passion over the possible loss of a carrier or two as to yield the last vestige of their power of circumscribing the acts of the executive branches of the government.

The house went into committee of the whole when the session opened and resumed consideration of the Indian appropriation bill. The pending amendment was that to strike out the appropriation for the Carlisle Indian school. After some debate the motion to strike out the appropriation was defeated—29—65.

LONG DEBATE IN THE SENATE.

Silver Question Is Discussed for More Than Six Hours.

Washington, Jan. 27.—For more than six hours Wednesday the senate had under discussion the Teller resolution providing that the government pay the principal and interest of the bonds of the United States in silver. By agreement the resolution and pending amendment are to be voted upon before adjournment today. The debate was devoid of sensational incidents and acrimonious colloquies, but was replete with argument and oratory. The time was consumed by Mr. Teller (Sil., Colo.), the author of the resolution, and by Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.), who supported the resolution, and by Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.) and Mr. Platt (Rep., Conn.) in opposition to it.

In the course of a brief colloquy between Mr. Platt on the one side and Mr. Allen and Mr. Tillman on the other Mr. Platt stated this country now had bimetalism. To this Mr. Chandler took exception, saying that any definition of bimetalism which omitted the free coinage of both metals at a ratio fixed by law was not only incorrect but obsolete.

Mr. Platt challenged Mr. Chandler to produce any recognized authority which included free coinage in the definition of bimetalism.

Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.) followed Mr. Platt in support of the resolution. He said that we were confronted upon all sides with the clamorous statements of the gold men that agitation of the financial question was being investigated by congressional committees, and the President of the United States in his message to this congress had advanced propositions in support of fastening upon the country the single gold standard.

Wants Only Township Tax.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 27.—By a petition filed in the supreme court it appears that the supervisor of Au Sable township, Iosco county, has refused to spread any state and county tax on the assessment roll, and has gone to Idaho rather than do so. He and all the other township officers are employes of the H. M. Loud & Sons Lumber Company, which pays 90 per cent of the taxes of the township. The remaining officials have refused to have the assessment made and have indorsed the supervisor's action. The court has ordered the township officials to show cause why they should not be compelled to assess and collect the tax.

Not Likely to Meet Gomez.

Washington, Jan. 27.—"No, I do not think he has gone on such a mission," said Senor Quesada, in charge of the Cuban headquarters, today when his attention was called to the published statement that Capt.-Gen. Blanco's trip to the eastern part of Cuba was for the purpose of conferring with General Gomez looking to terms of peace. "His purpose in going there, I think, is to assist in bolstering up as far as possible the Spanish cause," continued Mr. Quesada. "It has been five days since we have heard from the operations of the armies in that section of the island. Gen. Pando, the Spanish commander, was severely wounded and may be dead, and the Spanish army there is in a demoralized condition, and Blanco's visit, I think, is for the purpose of strengthening the lines and giving the troops what encouragement he can."

Temple Amendment in Favor.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 27.—Only two members of the house voted against the Temple amendment bill Wednesday, and it was passed by a vote of 89 to 2. This is the bill providing that no benefit received by any employee shall operate to relieve his employer of liability for damages for personal injuries. It is aimed at the voluntary relief department of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company. The bill will have practically no opposition in the senate. The school book discussion was started by the introduction of a bill by Mr. Ray, of Poweshiek, creating a committee of five to have charge of the state publication of school books. It is made compulsory that all schools in the state shall use these books. No distinction is made between city and county schools.

Draper's Case Ready for Jury.

Jacksonville, Ill., Jan. 27.—The closing chapter in the trial of Charles L. Draper for murder will be heard today. Ex-Gov. Johnson of Missouri occupied the larger part of the time in speaking for his client, setting forth the claims of insanity and self-defense. The killing was not denied, the defense relying upon insanity to excuse Draper's presence in the office and on self-defense for killing. The case will go to the jury to-day.

Masons Elect Officers.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 27.—The Michigan Masonic Grand Lodge voted to increase the Grand Lodge dues from 30 to 40 cents and to pay the extra 10 cents to the Masonic Home, and $1,500 was appropriated for the institution until this fund shall be available. James Bradley, Port Huron, was chosen grand master. Port Huron was chosen for the session next year.

Secretary Alger No Better.

Washington, Jan. 27.—There being no perceptible improvement in the condition of Secretary Alger during the last few days, his physicians have been again compelled to direct that he abstain temporarily from the consideration of all business matters, public and private.

Will Fight Currency Bill.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 27.—The Merchants' association of New York, representing 30,000 business houses and $1,000,000,000 of invested capital, through its representatives sent to the monetary convention, announced that the bill incorporating the plan of the commission will be fought in congress in its present form and changes must be made.

Delay on Bribery Investigation.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—The senate committee investigating the alleged attempt to bribe Representative Otis in the late senatorial contest did not meet Wednesday night. Chairman Burke said the committee would probably hold a short session some time to-day, but could not say whether any witnesses would be examined.

Brooklyn to Join the Fleet.

New York, Jan. 27.—Orders have been received at the navy yard to hurry the work on the cruiser Brooklyn, in order that she may sail Saturday. According to the yard officials the Brooklyn will be ready to sail on Saturday and will be with the fleet on the following Monday.

Railroad Strike Is Unbroken.

Lebanon, Ind., Jan. 27.—General Superintendent Moore of the Chicago & Southeastern Railway went over the road Wednesday and endeavored to induce the striking employees to return to work. His efforts were unsuccessful.

Russia to Increase Fleet.

London, Jan. 27.—A dispatch to the Daily Graphic from Sebastopol says it is rumored there that a portion of the Russian Black Sea fleet will be dispatched to China.

Spain Seeks Stronger Navy.

London, Jan. 27.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says the government will ask the next cortes to vote £8,000,000 for strengthening the navy.

Mass. under the bridges at Cincinnati. Ohio reached a maximum of 52 feet 4 inches at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—The flood in the West of the Ohio River.

Will Teach Beneficence.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 27.—The general assembly special committee on systematic beneficence of the presbyterian church met here Wednesday. The conference agreed to recommend the holding of synodical and presbyterian conventions to instruct people on beneficence. All churches, great and small, will be asked to do their share of the work of raising money. The committee considered an apportionment plan, and will report to the general assembly in Winona, Minn., in May.

Disagree on Currency Bill.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The house committee on banking and currency did not take action toward reporting any currency bill. Mr. Johnson of Indiana, who is regarded as favorable to the monetary commission bill, secured the adoption of a resolution for a statement from each member as to his position on the general question of a revision of the currency, but subsequently withdrew his motion.

now in the circuit court of Rock

PURE FOOD AT SANBORN'S

Richelieu Brand Is Having Its Excellence Demonstrated.

The testing of Sprague Warner &
Co's "new pickings" has fairly begun at our store, the non-arrival of necessary articles caused some unavoidable delay, but everything is now in readiness to show up the greatest list of table articles ever brought together under one brand. We have never in our grocery experience handled so satisfactory a line as this one, we don't believe there is a better lot of food products in existence; we pin our faith and rest the reputation of our store on the Richelieu trade mark. Sprague Warner & Co. come very near perfection when they put out the Richelieu line. The line includes vegetables, fruits, jellies, jams, marmalades, catsup, maple syrup and mince meat.

Jams that are nothing but pure fruit
and crystal sugar.
Fruits put up carefully in heavy syrup.

Vegetables, so skillfully handled,
that all the savor of summer is in them.

All these are found under Richelieu
label.

In fruits (all put up in heavy syrup)
the line includes:
Sliced Peaches.

Red, pitted, preserved cherries,
Royal Ann white cherries, sliced pine apples, Moor park apricots, Bartlett pears.

The line of vegetables gives tempting variety, and includes:
Extra sliced tomatoes, golden wax beans, extra Lima beans, fancy sugar peas, baked beans.

Richelieu cove oysters and Columbia River salmon trout are two details not covered by other classifications.

Richelieu mince meat carefully packed in glass and tempting enough to make any mouth water is another.

Orange marmalade, black currant, cranberry, pineapple, strawberry, red currant and blackberry jams are notable in the Richelieu display.

Richelieu maple cream, an article of rare value as a confection or for use in layer cakes, etc.

Each day we shall make special for the demonstration of some one line of Richelieu goods. Tomorrow will be hot mince pie and Diamond, Mocha and Java coffee. We invite every body to partake of these dainties. C.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter to W. C. Orolius
On the Situation.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 27.—[Special]— Receipts of wheat at primary markets are 247,000 bushels against 318,- 000 last week and 205,000 last year.
Cargos at Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth are 305 against 342 last week and 208 last year. Clearances from four Atlantic ports about 500,000 bushels.

Cincinnati price current says: "Prevailing indications are encouraging.
Better roads and moderate advance would likely enlarge offerings." Mr.
Prime says: "Conditions all over the wheat belt are supple, in fact are most to good to last." Total at Minneapolis yesterday aggregate 100,000 barrels of flour at least half for export and for the week sales amount to 350,000 barrels. Broomhall says:

"British consul of Kiev, South Russia,
reports probability of Russia becoming an importer." Now if we have got to supply all the countries in the world, even exporting countries from our scant stock of supplies it is evident that the try to the bread stuff situation of the world is in the hands of America and that she can indicate the price to the world, but we imagine that the talk of Russian importation of wheat if similar to yesterday's report of Russian crops being injured by frost, frost in midwinter in Russia is certainly a new feature. It may however suggest a depletion of stocks in south Russia. If such is the fact it will mean an increased demand for our corn and provisions. The situation is fairly tending towards a largely increased foreign demand for our corn and we expect a constant appreciation of its value as a food product. With wheat at a dollar and corn at 30 cents
there must necessarily be a shifting of demand to the cheaper product.
We are satisfied that will be the outcome if present conditions of demand and supply, as are estimated by all our home and foreign statisticians, are confirmed.

Our wheat market has advanced another cent today. The market is broadening. Speculation is slowly improving and the cash demand in all markets is active. There has been large selling by local holders, but larger buying which has absorbed all offerings. The talk is a dollar this week and it looks like it might be true, but we do not care to advise either way. It is an unnatural market in our opinion. There is a very strong feeling in corn and we feel that it is warranted by every consideration except the large stocks, but we remember that the highest prices of grain we have ever seen have been on the large stocks. Provisions are holding their own.

ROBERT LINDBLOM.

Cure of Typhoid Fever.

An eminent physician states that typhoid fever can be washed out of the system by water. He gives his patients what would amount to eight or ten ounces an hour of sterilized water. In case of cholera, where the system secretes a large amount of fluid, enormous quantities of hot water are of great benefit.

NEW SCHEME FOR DAIRYMEN

Editor Libby Tells About a Novel Butter
Making Plan

Editor Libby, of the Evansville Enterprise, tells in his paper about a new butter making plan that is likely to revolutionize the business. He says: "Although a little out of his professional line, attorney John Heron, now of Chicago, interested a number of farmers and citizens in the art of butter making at Dibble's grocery.
Saturday afternoon, with a newly invented churn which is certainly a wonder in its line. He first turned one gallon of sweet cream into 2 pounds, 6 ounces of butter in just five minutes; then by the same process and in the same length of time secured 1 pound of excellent butter from one gallon of sweet milk obtained from Mr. Hunt, something before unknown in the art of butter making. Nelson Winston and Rev. M. C. Miner timed the operation which was very simple and comprehensive."

STREET CARS SHOULD NOT RUN

Rusk Lyceum Debaters Discuss the Subject
Last Night.

Members of the Rusk Lyceum held an interesting debate at the High school building last evening the topic being: "Resolved that the street cars should run in the city of Janesville."
For the negative appeared Ira Miltimore and Walter Smith, while the affirmative was represented by Burr Smith and Leo Brown. Speakers for the negative gave startling figures of how the road had lost money and how Janesville was known to have more horses than any other town of its size
in the state.

For the affirmative plenty of evidences was introduced to show that the cars was not operated in a way that the public could depend on, but judges found for the negative.

ARE HAULING THE SNOW AWAY

Railroads Getting Rid of the Accumulation in the Yards

Numerous flat car in charge of special engines were to be seen moving through the local C. & N. W. and St.
Paul railroad yards today taking aboard the many large banks of snow that lined the tracks on both sides.
Gangs of men were in charge of each train.

On the streets of Janesville during the past two days Street Commissioner Palmer had a force of thirty men at work.

Near the Golf grounds yesterday men were sent to clear the road so as to allow teams to enter the city, the drifts being several feet high at that point.

evening on the way home Mr. Brennan contracted a severe cold and today he is lying at the point of death with pneumonia at his home in this city.
This afternoon his condition was little changed and his recovery is doubtful.

H. E. DAMM BUNCOED BY CHICAGO MEN

EVANSVILLE RESIDENT HAS EXPERIENCE.

Two Alleged Policemen Arrested Him
For Counterfeiting and Got Ninety Dollars—Damm Had $450 That They Didn't Get, However, and
He Says He "Fooled 'Em."

H. E. Damm of Evansville, Wis., paid $95 for a little experience in Chicago yesterday, which he thinks was cheap. Damm appeared at Central Police station and presented a receipt for $90 signed "Driscoll."
"What is this for," asked the desk sergeant.

"I want my money back, of course,"
replied Damm.

The man from Wisconsin said he was met by two men at the Wisconsin Central depot, who accused him of being a counterfeiter. One of them displayed a policeman's star and placed Damm under arrest. The victim pretended he had no counterfeit money and handed them $90 to examine.
The supposed officers gave him a receipt, and told him to call at Central station for his money. If it was genuine it would be returned, and they trusted to his honor to see them there.

Damm was told he had been duped
by a pair of swindlers.
"I feared as much when they left me," said he, "but anyway I fooled them worse than they did me." And he pulled a wallet from his pocket in which was $450.

EVENING TOILETS.

General Hints Concerning the Newest Ball and Reception Costumes.

The ruffles of tulle, mousseline de sole or taffeta which are a favorite trimming for evening gowns are plainly hemmed, bordered with a band of narrow silk or velvet ribbon, edged with lace or finished by a tiny ruche of ribbon or mousseline, the ruche being the newest and most fragile adornment. This fine ruching is also seen as an edge about the long sash ends of wide ribbon worn on evening costumes and toilets of ceremony.

Few absolutely plain and untrimmed skirts are seen for ball gowns. Where thin, transparent material is used it is gathered all around the waist, and often is also ornamented by ruffles, bands or lace. When the skirt is of satin, taffeta or similar materials and is fitted at the top, it is almost always decorated more or less elaborately. Bodies are made in conformity with the style of the wearer and the material used.

RECEPTION GOWN.

Generally speaking, draperies across the breast and around the shoulders, berthes, full ruffles, with ornaments of ribbon tied in bows and trimmings having a fluffy effect, are preferred.

The décolletage this winter is not extreme, as a rule. The shoulders are seldom entirely uncovered. The bodice should not be cut lower at the back than in front unless it is carried down in a point almost to the waist, a style which is not, of course, permitted for young girls.

The illustration shows a reception costume having an accordion plaited skirt of mauve mousseline de sole over mauve satin. The accordion plaited bodice is trimmed with a bow of lace and a large lace cravat. The shirred sleeves have plaited caps. The draped collar is of gold taffeta, as is the scarf belt which is tied at the side.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

CHILDREN'S FASHIONS.

Pretty Garments to Be Worn by the Little People.

White, pink and blue are the colors preferred for little girls' party dresses. China and liberty silk, satin, fustian and even printed and striped taffeta are employed, although simpler and therefore more appropriate frocks are made of fine cashmere and henrietta, thin silk and wool oreon and velveteen. Dresses of exquisitely embroidered white nainsook never go out of fashion for little girls and may be worn over white or colored slips, warm flannel garments being placed beneath to insure sufficient protection against a chill.

Ottoman silk and velvet are also used for children's gowns, but these materials are rather too rich and mature to show off a child's beauty to the best advantage.

Very little boys, say 3 years old, are clothed in the same goods as are used for little girls, but the style is much simpler and plainer, a double breasted, belted tunic or a little kilt suit being preferred to anything more fanciful. Wide collars and cuffs of guipure or nainsook embroidery and lace form the principal decoration.

For very young girls, not yet in full length dresses, evening gowns of mousseline de sole over taffeta are favorites. The mousseline may be accordion plaited or simply gathered. Bretelles are an appropriate trimming, and shoulder knots are being revived. Sash belts of wide ribbon or soft silk are again worn.

An illustration is given of a pretty little coat for a child of 3 or 4 years. It is of blue cashmere and is mounted in two box plaits, back and front, on a yoke of gray astrakhan, which is surrounded by a border of chinchilla. The sleeves have chinchilla bands at the wrists. The belt of blue satin passes under the plaits and ties in front.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Valuable Household Specific.

There is no more valuable household specific than powdered borax. In case of a burn, a cloth wet in borax and water is the most soothing application. It is excellent for a cankered mouth. It is invaluable as a gargle in case of sore throat. A little dissolved on the tongue will relieve a cough. It is excellent as a wash for the hair, not only for cleansing the scalp, but also for strengthening the roots of the hair after a fever and preventing its falling out. It is excellent to put in the bath water, and it is an absolute remedy for cockroaches and other insects if sprinkled dry about shelves and crevices.

PARLOR CROQUET.

A Modification of the Popular Game For Winter Use.

No popular outdoor game is easier to transfer to the house than croquet. Get a large board about the size of your dining room table and you have the field. Then a few lengths of wire, cut into proper size and pointed on the ends, will give you the wickets. Fasten these hoops to the board, and there you are. Each hoop has a number, and the player who rolls up the highest score within a given number of shots wins the game. No mallets are used, but there are very small balls to be sent through the wickets by direction of the hands. The wickets showing the highest numbers are, of course, placed at the most inaccessible spots on the board.

INDOOR CROQUET.

DEMAND FOR TRICYCLES.

Englishmen of Advanced Age Revive an Old Fashion.

In recent English exhibitions the tricycle has been much in evidence. Following upon the wholesale adoption of cycling by the youth of the leisured classes came the persuasion of their elders that it offered healthful recreation for them also. Among them, and also among certain younger members of the weaker sex, enjoyment is not found in excitement or anything bordering upon it. Feeble or nervous temperaments do not relish the vagaries of the two wheeler on muddy roads or a sudden dismount in the thick of city traffic, nor can they overcome the horror of an unlooked for fall or forget the consequences. Yet have they tasted the joys of the pastime. They are loath to relinquish it, and in their perplexity they have bethought them of the tricycle. The three wheelers were formerly popular, but were eclipsed by the safety bicycle. Probably the tricycle would have remained had the staid people been cyclists. But youth had to be served, and the tricycle was sacrificed. It really never had a fair chance, but perhaps skill will be brought to bear on its development that will make it little, if anything, behind the safety in either speed or comfort.

YOUTH AND STRENGTH.

Joseph Kohen Is the Wonder of Athletes and Doctors.

Joseph Kohen is only 20 years old, but is already a rival of Sandow. His admirers believe that he is destined to be the strongest man in the world. He has sustained a weight on his chest and knees of a piano weighing 1,150 pounds and nine men, a total weight of 2,140 pounds. In appearance he is like a girl. In height he is about 5 feet 9 inches, and while he is not fleshy, he tips the scales at 205 pounds. Although not nearly fully developed, Kohen has performed every feat of strength ever done by Sandow and many others besides at which Sandow failed. Kohen is also attracting the attention of physicians, having proved by careful training that great strength is in the reach of the weakest. Until two years ago Kohen was a student in a western Pennsylvania college. His parents live in Alleghany. After being graduated from college Kohen began the study of medicine and became interested in muscular development. Before that time he had never even been athletic. So interested in muscles did he become that he began experimenting on himself by exercising a few muscles in his arms and legs, closely watching results. As the exercising continued he began to develop, and as a final test put himself through a regular course of physical culture, and from a thin weakling he got to be a boy of wonderful physical development within a few months.

Rabbit Shooting.

Lancaster county in Pennsylvania has a claimant for the honor of being the champion rabbit shooter in the person of one Henry Brooks, who, it is asserted, recently killed 68 in a day and a half. He is said to have placed 20 more to his credit on last Wednesday, making his total for the season more than 300.

Tightening Pedals.

Pedals very often work loose in their sockets through the wearing of the thread of the screw. The best way to overcome this is to wind the stem closely with coarse thread or darning wool. Then coat this with ordinary gum arabic. Screw on the nut as firmly as possible, and it will generally be found to hold securely.

Gear Cases.

A good chain wheel with a dustproof gear case is the latest rival to the chainless. A dust and mud proof gear case of light weight that will not cause a disagreeable rattle is considered by many to be better and more serviceable than the chainless.

I had the rheumatism so badly that I could not get my hand to my head. I tried the doctor's medicine without the least benefit. At last I thought of Chamberlain's Pain Balm; the first bottle relieved all of the pain, and on half of the second bottle effected a complete cure.—W. J. HOLLAND, Holland, Va. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is equally good for sprains, swellings and lameness, as well as burns, cuts and bruises. For sale at People's Drug Co.'s store, corner East Milwaukee street.

Wonderful Vitality.

The leaf of a creeping moss found in the islands of Jamaica, Barbados, and other parts of the West Indies, known as the "Life plant," is absolutely indestructible by any means except immersion in boiling water or the application of a red hot iron. It may be cut and divided in any manner, and the smallest shreds will throw out roots, grow, and form buds. Even when pressed and packed away in a botanist's herbarium, it has been known to grow.

O. W. O. Hardman, when sheriff of Tyler Co., W. Va., was at one time, almost prostrated with a cold. He used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was so much pleased with the quick relief and cure it afforded him, that he gave the following unsolicited testimonial: "To all who may be interested, I wish to say, that I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and find it invaluable for coughs and colds." RUSSIA BACK OF INDIA'S WAR.

Proof of This Is Found in a Cargo of Arms Just Captured.

New York, Jan. 27.—A London special cable to a local evening paper says:

"The London government has long suspected that Russian intrigues were back of the rebellious outbreaks of the semi-savage tribesmen of Baluchistan, along the borders of India. Today the suspicion was proved to be correct. Word came from Muscat, Gulf of Oman that the British gunboat Lapwing has seized the steamer Baluchistan, off here, and her cargo of arms and ammunition has been confiscated. Her cargo is held by the British consul."

"The presumption here was that the cargo of arms and ammunition seized by the Lapwing was intended for the use of the insurgents of Baluchistan, who have recently been giving considerable trouble to the British, and this belief was heightened when the cargo, which was consigned to a dozen different Russian firms, was found to consist largely of the latest style of British rifles. The presence of these rifles in the hands of the insurgent tribesmen during the recent engagement between British troops and Afridis mystified the former."

"Now the mystery is cleared away and the plain, black fact stands out that the czar's government has aided and abetted the foes of Great Britain in India. This discovery, coupled with the critical state of Anglo-Russian relations in China, has stirred to still greater heat the popular demand for a vigorous foreign policy."

ALL TROUBLES ARE AT AN END.

Diggers of Coal Secure an Advance of 10 Cents a Ton, an Eight-Hour Day and Uniform Screens—Happy Outcome of the Joint Meeting.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—What is considered the greatest victory a labor organization has ever won became history at the conclusion of the joint conference of coal operators and miners Wednesday night, when, by a unanimous vote, the miners secured an advance in wages of 10 cents a ton, an eight-hour day and uniform screens in all the competitive fields.

At the session in the afternoon President Ratchford of the Miners' Union introduced the following resolution, designed to restore harmony and bring about a settlement:

"That an advance of 10 cents a ton for mining screened coal take effect in the western Pennsylvania district, Hocking Valley district and Indiana bituminous districts, April 1, 1898, and that a relative run of mine price be determined in the districts named by a uniform flat-bar screen of 72 superficial feet, one and one-quarter inches between bars. That the price of run of mine coal in the Grape Creek district and Indiana bituminous fields be 40 cents per ton, based upon 66 cents in the Pittsburgh thin-vein district and Hocking Valley and Indiana."

That on and after April 1, 1898, the eight-hour day shall be in effect in all districts represented.

"That uniform wages for day labor shall be paid the different classes of labor in the fields named, and that internal differences in any of the states, both as to prices and conditions, shall be referred to the states affected."

To President Ratchford's resolution was attached this amendment: "That we further agree to use the diamond-bar screens, present patterns, in the block district of Indiana, with the privilege of run of mine, as may be desired by marked conditions."

Not more than a half hour was consumed in the evening before the amendment was put and lost, and then Mr. Ratchford's resolution was voted upon. The operators of the Hocking Valley voted against it, but the other portions of the Ohio field were favorable to it and the resolution was declared adopted by a viva voce vote.

It was also decided that the rate for machine mining should be made on the same relative basis as at present, as well as the rate to be paid for day labor.

The differentials and rates for the various fields are to be fixed by the district presidents and executive board of the United Mine Workers' union and two representatives from the operators of each state.

It was decided that the next interstate conference should be held in Pittsburgh the third Tuesday of January of next year.

On the basis of 66 cents in Pittsburgh the operators figure that the miners in the Wilmington field of Illinois will receive 68 cents a ton for mine run. This would be an increase of 3 cents a ton. The miners, however, say it will figure at least 1 cent more. The original contention in the Pittsburgh field was for 75 cents a ton, but the operators conceded the demand for a uniform screen, which will decrease their mesh from one and one-half inches to one and a quarter inches, and it is said that this concession will more than make up the difference in the mining price. The other fields will be fixed on a relative basis after the differentials have been settled upon.

To Investigate Cotton Industry.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 27.—In the house of representatives Wednesday a resolution was introduced for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the causes and report a remedy for the depressed condition of the cotton industry of the state. The house refused to pass the measure and it was referred to a committee.

Huntington's Dry Dock.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 27.—Collis P. Huntington, who arrived here last night, was asked to state his intentions regarding the proposition he had made to Secretary Long, offering to build a dry dock capable of receiving the largest ship afloat. He said: "You can say that I will shortly build the largest and best dry dock in American waters, a basin in which any ship in the United States or British merchant marine can be safely docked and overhauled. There is urgent need of a dry dock in which the vessels of the navy can be repaired at short notice, and it is such a basin that I propose to build."

All Uneasy in China.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 27.—Captain Porter of the steamer Braemar, which has arrived from the orient, says he learned on very good authority that a firm of long standing in the orient is buying up all the Welsh and English coal that can be produced in China and Japan and in behalf of Great Britain. He also says there is now in Japan a very strong feeling against Europeans, mainly among the lower classes. So great is the feeling that the government has issued proclamations commanding all Japanese, under severe penalties, to treat Europeans with the greatest respect.

A'cheap' Sewing Machine May Be Too Cheap.

BUYING MACHINES FROM strangers is costly business. We sell machines as cheap as reliable machines can be put on the market. We back them with a positive five year guarantee—our personal guarantee and the maker's. The makers are the National Sewing Machine Co. of Belvidere, one of the largest concerns in the country. They turn out 500 machines a day, and can build thoroughly good machines on the closest possible margins. We show four of their best sellers:

At $16 "Expert".
At $20 "Seamstress."
At $25 "Eldredge B."
At $30 Eldredge B (Drop Head.)

OUR $16 machine is worth two of any other low-priced machine on the market and is backed by a sweeping five year guarantee. Every part is case hardened. All parts are interchangeable, so that repairs can be had on a day's notice. The machines will last a life time. They are built by skilled mechanics. They are built in a factory; not in a foundry. They are backed by a responsible firm and if anything goes wrong you know where to come.

January Cloak Business . .

Is good--better than usual in this month, but whether it is because there's more money in circulation or that we are giving better values than ever before, we cannot tell. Certain it is that business in the cloak department reminds us of the busy times during early season. Of course there are many reasons why women are buying cloaks at this time, the most important being that the new and stylish coats which have been priced at $9 to $15 can be bought today at $5.00, and coats which have been up to $7.50 are now down to $2.87. This applies to misses' jackets as well as to ladies' garments, whether jackets or capes.

It is well to have in mind that the line of new, stylish garments which we show at this time is larger and more complete than the average store shows at the beginning of a season. For large women we have plenty of good coats in 40, 42, 44 and 46 bust measure at both the above prices--$2.87 and $5.00.

Gaiter Leggings--For ladies, misses and children in six sizes. made of black jersey cloth, with buttons and straps. Prices 75c to $1.35 according to size. No gaiter, or the market to equal them for warmth.

Fleece Lined Hosiery--Have a line in two sizes, in two qualities for ladies--25c and 35c, and at the price they are excellent value. For children, have a line sizes 6 to 9½, at 10c and 12½c

All lines of Winter Goods are priced low.
